DECLARATION OF JORGE SALAZAR-
CARRILLO IN SUPPORT OF MOTIONS FOR SUMMARY
JUDGMENT

JORGE SALAZAR-CARRILLO, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, hereby declares:

1. I am a Full Professor in the Department of Economics at Florida International University and an associated member in the Cuban Research Institute in the School of International and Public Affairs at Florida International University. I am also the Director of the Center of Economic Research at Florida International University.

2. I have edited and authored over two hundred articles and book chapters, and over 90 published books. I have focused my research on the economics and history of Latin America, including Cuba.

3. I was a Director in the Economic Group in Cuba at the Cuban Ministry of Finance throughout 1959, and part of 1960, during the Cuban revolution.

4. I left Cuba in April of 1960 and relocated to Miami, Florida. Since I relocated, I continued to study and research Cuban law, the Cuban economy and Cuban corporations.

5. I am one of the Directors of the Cuban Banking Study Group, which is a group made up of bankers and other professionals who are of Cuban origin or have an interest in the future of Cuba. The Group was chaired, until recently, by General Brent Scowcroft, former National Security Advisor under Presidents Gerald Ford and George H. W. Bush, and retired United States Air Force Lieutenant General. In my role as a Director of the Group, my responsibilities include researching all financial matters regarding the Cuban economy.

6. I am a member of the Havana Consulting Group and my responsibilities include staying up to date on the status of Cuban corporations. The Havana Consulting Group researches current events in Cuba, including the opening of new Cuban businesses, sales of cars in Cuba, and the real estate market in Cuba, among other things.

7. I am currently the First Vice President of “Colegio de Economistas de Cuba,” which is the equivalent of the American Economic Association. It studies the Cuban economy. In my role as Vice President, my responsibilities include studying the economy of Cuba, publishing books on Cuba, and organizing conferences of Cuban experts.

8. I am the one of the founding directors of the “Association for the Study of the Cuban Economy,” founded in approximately the late 1980s. The purpose of this Association is to keep abreast of economic developments in Cuba.

9. I recently completed a book on Cuba, titled Cuba: From Takeoff to Disaster Under Castro which was published earlier this month of October by Transactions Publishers of Rutgers University. In researching and drafting this book, I studied the current status of Cuban corporations and the ownership by the Republic of Cuba of those corporations.

10. This declaration is based on my personal knowledge.

Cuban Corporations

11. In order to be created as a corporate entity under Cuban law, the corporate entity must successfully go through a complex web of governmental approvals, that starts with the Council of Ministers and goes up to the Council of State and the Politburo of the Communist Party, the only one allowed in Cuba.

12. During this corporate approval process, the Cuban government ensures that the corporate entity itself is created for government purposes.

13. The Cuban government actively supervises all corporate entities organized and existing under Cuban law. The Cuban government either directly manages or supervises the management of all Cuban corporate entities, and owns at least 51% of the stock.
